Corbusier (1887-1965)

was the most significant architect of the twentieth century. Every architecture student examines the Swiss master's work. Yet, all too frequently, they rely on reproductions of faded drawings of uneven size and quality.

Sectional projections, compared to other types of representation, capture most clearly the relational dynamic
among different building elements and therefore express most effectively the architect
